

DEMING TO VOTE SEWER BOND ISSUE

Special Election Called to Authorize Construction of $38,000 System.

Deming, N. M., Nov. 17.—At an adjourned meeting of the board of trustees of Deming a resolution was adopted calling an election of the qualified voters to vote upon the proposition of issuing bonds to the aggregate amount of $38,000 for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of a sanitary sewerage system.

January 14, 1911, is the date set for the holding of the election. This $38,000 will give Deming an up-to-date sewerage system and is the result of the estimate made by W. P. Bullock, an engineer, of Kansas City, Mo.

Maps showing the location of the proposed sewer with mains and laterals are now being displayed in the city clerk's office at Deming. The system will consist of one septic tank which is to be located east of Deming, five standard flush tanks and 360 standard manholes, and also provides for an acre of ground for the location of the septic tank. Approximately 37,000 feet of sewer pipe will be used.

Miss Mary Windhurst, of Indiana, Nebraska, and H. Houghland, of Deming, were united in marriage at the Wilden hotel by Rev. Z. Moore, pastor of the local Christian church. The bride arrived in Deming a few days ago. The groom owns a fine tract of land about ten miles south of Deming. Miss Mary Anderson and John M. Thompson, both residents of Deming, were united in marriage at the county clerk's office.

The heavy rains of a few days ago will make it possible for the early completion of the county road across the sands of the Mimbre river. This road when completed will make a hard road all of the way to the upper Mimbre valley.

The district court for Luna county will take up its duties Monday, November 21. Subpoenas are being served for the grand and petit juries. It was hoped that the new Luna county court house would be ready for occupancy at this time, but owing to unavoidable delays court will be held at the usual place, the Baker's hall on Silver avenue.

Who Are "They."

We all have a way of saying "they say" this or that about some person, or some thing, and accepting it ourselves as authentic when someone says "they say" to us.

But if we stopped to inquire into the exact source of the information, either we would be unable to trace it back to anyone other than that elusive individual, "They Say," or we will find back of it the unkind gossip of some enemy.

And just because "they say" fails to put the blame of a falsehood on any one person's shoulders it really is the most dangerous of statements and one of the hardest to refute.

So let us beware of believing "they say" stories. Let us treat lightly all gossip introduced by the words "they say." Or if this gossip makes us suspicious of its object—and it is natural and human to be so—let us distrust it until we suspend judgment until we know.

In other words, let us do the object of "they say" the justice to investigate until we find someone who is in a position from which he can know and whom we can trust to make a positive statement over his own name as to the truth or falsity of the "they say" story.

The writer has been led to pen this little lesson in practical fairness by reading a little book issued by the Coca-Cola Company, of Atlanta, Ga., entitled "The Truth About Coca-Cola." That truly delicious and wholesome beverage has for so long been the subject of "they say" stories in which all manner of untrue and detrimental things about Coca-Cola have been circulated that the manufacturers have been forced to issue their book of authentic information about this beverage. And the information therein contained does not rest its case on any "they say" statements, but bases its arguments on analyses and statements of chemists and scientists occupying the highest positions in America.

This is a most interesting book—a fine study in dignity in refuting falsehoods—and a book of instruction that all should read. You will find it well worth your while to write and ask the Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga., to send you a free copy.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded if It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup and saves you about $2 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (5 cents' worth) in a pint bottle and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both excellent features. Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. The plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money refunded, is given with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
